

A spiral-bound notebook is shown from a top-down perspective, lying flat. The notebook is divided into two main sections by a central metal spiral binding. The left section consists of several cream-colored pages, with the top page being blank. The right section is a solid, light brown cover with rounded corners. In the center, spanning across the spiral binding, is a large, faint, double-lined octagonal stamp. Inside this stamp, the text "PATRIMONIO UC" is printed in a serif font, centered horizontally. Two thin horizontal lines are positioned above and below the text, also centered within the octagonal frame.
