

A wide-angle, low-angle shot of a large, empty lecture hall. The perspective is from the back of the room, looking down a long, brightly lit central aisle. The aisle is flanked by rows of dark, curved seats that recede into the distance. At the far end of the aisle, a stage is visible, featuring a large window or screen. The text "PATRIMONIO UC" is overlaid in a serif font across the center of the image, positioned over the stage area. The overall lighting is dramatic, with the aisle and stage being the primary sources of light, creating a strong contrast with the dark seating areas.
