Mr. Manuel Rojas
Llewellyn-Jones 1212
Santiago, CHILE

Dear Mr. Rojas:

Many thanks for your letter of recent date, which was delivered in hand by your very pleasant emissary, Miss Esther Allesandri. I found her most interesting, and especially on the subject of Chilean literature.

Your brief autobiography is excellent, and the photograph is quite capable of reproduction. At such time as we go into production of the jacket, we will examine these materials in greater detail.

One aspect of your letter causes considerable concern. You state that your book will be published very soon in Germany and France, and that steps are being taken to obtain translations and editions in England and Italy. I refer you to our contract which is dated December 22, 1953, wherein you have conceded to us, for a period of eighteen months following contract date, the authorization to arrange for translations and other editions and publications of your book in all languages except for Spanish.

Consequently, your apparent violation of the contract comes as a source of genuine surprise to us. Will you please explain?

Kindest regards, and we trust we will hear from you promptly.

Sincerely yours,
