Dear Mr. Rojas:

Thanks for your note of June 3. You inquire about your salary for the coming academic year. As I believe I mentioned in my first letter, the work actually begins here at the very end of September, but your first check, for one-twelfth of your total salary, will be paid to you on October 1. I regret that we do not have here any position for this summer.

Many thanks for the curriculum vitae, which I shall use later on for publicity on your appointment. If convenient, you might also send me a photograph of yourself.

Cordial good wishes to both of you for a very pleasant summer.

Sincerely yours,

Chandler B. Beall
