My dear Julie,

I have written to you on previous occasions about JUAN PABLO IZQUIERDO, the conductor.

I enclose recent information about his activities, and I am sure you will be impressed by the originality of his performances which include classic, romantic, contemporary and avant garde works. I am convinced that there are very few conductors who could muster such a repertoire.

Mr. Izquierdo is now resident in England, and although he has a heavy schedule of engagements all over the world, he would welcome an invitation from you.

I would be pleased if you could consider including Mr. Izquierdo in your future programmes.

With fond wishes
from yours
ever
Charlotte Nicholls
