

of Hotel Lotté,
Rue Castiglione, Paris.
Dec. 11, 1924.

Henry L. Mencken Esq., of The American Mercury
Alfred A. Knopf, Publisher.
220, West 42nd St.,
New York City.
U.S.A.

My dear Mencken,

This letter will serve as an introduction to Sr. Vincent Hindobro, who is anxious to have his "Finis Britannia" republished in America. The book, which was published in French, is a grand slam against the British, & caused considerable stir - no doubt you have heard of it.

The Foreign Press Service of 215 W 33rd St. N. Y. are in negotiation with him to have the book translated & republished on a 50-50 basis; I do not know these people & if you can assist him by recommending a suitable agency I would be greatly obliged. My little publishing business is plodding along & I have lately launched out in Spanish publications.

With kindest regards,
Sincerely yours, Paul Brewster